Foreword.

Kappa has never lacked for loyal and enthusiastic members, but few of those who have worn her colors have known their full right to be proud of their fraternity . Few Kappa's have had time to acquaint themselves with the record of their own chapter, much less to dig through musty archives to find the history of the other chapters of the fraternity.

In this little book I have tried to glean from our history the material to justify our love for and pride in our fraternity and to confirm our faith for her future. I recognize the shortcomings and imperfections of this brief history of Kappa's splendid past and doubt not that many of her greatest victories and best achievements have been undiscovered or overlooked. This book, however, is but a sign post. I have attempted only to blaze the way along which it will be easy for others to follow. I know that in Kappa's ranks today there are many not only willing but eager to take up my labor of love where I have laid it down and fill in the missing links until Kappa's record is complete.

Kappa Kappa Gamma.

With the admission of women to the universities where Greek letter fraternities for men were already established, came the organization of women's fraternities. The first Greek letter fraternity for women was established at DePauw University, then Indiana, Asbury University, January 27th, 1870. This fraternity at once began to expand in response to the national idea already expressed in the growth of the men's fraternities and an effort was made to establish a chapter of this fraternity at Monmouth College, Illinois, where a women's society called the I. C. Sorosis had been established in 1867. The women who were asked to become its charter members preferred, however, to organize a new fraternity and thus Kappa Kappa Gamma came into being on October 13th, 1870.

INSIGNIA.

Badge.

The visible token of each Kappa's membership in the fraternity is the "Golden Key." This key or badge of Kappa Kappa Gamma is an inch in length with the Greek letters K. K. Γ, enamelled on the stem of the key and the letters A, Ω , O, representing the date of the founding of the fraternity, on the ward. The chapter to which the wearer belongs is designated either by an attachment pin showing the Greek letter of the chapter or by engraving on the back of the key.

A pledge pin or badge consisting of a Σ superimposed upon a ρ is worn by those who while not yet initiated into the fraternity have given their pledge or promise to join it. Pledge Pin.

The colors of Kappa Kappa Gamma are the "Two Blues," being extreme shades of light blue and dark blue. Colors.

The flower of the fraternity is the fleur de lis. Flower.

The jewel of the fraternity is the sapphire. Jewel.

The Kappa call consists of the Greek words "Ai Korae Athenes," meaning "Hail ye Daughters of Minerva." Call.

The patron diety of the Kappa fraternity is Minerva, the Goddess of wisdom. Her helmeted head and owl are favorite symbols in fraternity decorations. Patron.

PUBLICATIONS.

Kappa Kappa Gamma publishes a quarterly magazine called "The Key," devoted to papers and discussions of general fraternity interest and to the reports and correspondence of the Magazine.

several chapters. The magazine was founded in 1881 under the name of "The Golden Key," and was the first magazine published by any Women's fraternity. The literary genius and ability of Minnetta Theodora Taylor, the first Editor and Manager of "The Key," enabled her to produce a magazine of such extraordinarily high character that from its first issues "The Key" was ranked with the leading Greek fraternity periodicals, and her retirement from the Editorship, after having published the first three volumes, was universally deplored by the whole Greek fraternity world.

From 1886 to 1893, inclusive, "The Key" was published by the chapter at Boston University. From 1894 to 1900, "The Key" was published by the chapter at Cornell University, under the Editorship of Mary J. Hull, who made for herself an enviable place in fraternity journalism. The dignity and character which she gave to "The Key" added much to its prestige and reputation.

In 1900 the publication of "The Key" was transferred to the chapter at Ohio State University and Lucy Allan Smart elected Editor, which position she still holds. Under her management "The Key" has increased in size and interest and has attracted the support of the alumnae to such an extent that it now has by far the largest subscription list of any Woman's fraternity magazine and is more worthy now than ever to be called the first among Women's fraternity journals. "The Key" is now in its twentieth volume.

The first catalogue of Kappa Kappa Gamma was published in 1890 by the Chapter at Boston University under the Editorship of Emily Bright-Burnham. Two years later an appendix, edited by Helen H. Wadsworth, was published by the same chapter. The second catalogue was published in 1898. This volume is by far the best catalogue published by any Woman's fraternity. It is bound in the colors of the fraternity and gives the name and record of each one of the 3,000 members that Kappa then had. The compilation was done by the Leland Stanford University chapter, under the supervision of Anna H. Martin, but the final revision and publication was in the hands of Mary J. Hull, then Editor of "The Key." Calendars.

At the convention of 1900 Mary J. Hull, of Ithaca, New York, upon retiring from the Editorship of "The Key" was elected Cataloguer of the fraternity. A new system of card catalogues has been established by Mary D. Griffith which will make the next edition of the catalogue unique and complete.

Though none have been officially authorized Catalogue. by the fraternity, members of different chapters have from time to time published Kappa Kappa Gamma calendars. The first of these was published in 1889 by members of the Boston chapter. Since then other calendars have been issued by members of the Boston, Cornell, Ohio State University, Kansas State University and University of Pennsylvania chapters. These calendars have chiefly been printed in the fraternity's colors and decorated with fraternity emblems and have been appropriate souvenirs and reminders of fraternity events and standards.

Song Books

The fraternity songs have always played a large part in the pleasures of fraternity life. Early in 1886 a little blue pamphlet four and a half by seven inches appeared, containing twenty-nine pages and the words of thirty-six songs. This little book was compiled by Beta Beta Chapter.

In 1889 Chi Chapter edited and published the second song book, the songs being compiled by Susie G. Kelley, of Iota. This book was more pretentious, being eight by ten and a half inches, bound in white and light blue cloth, and containing one hundred and twenty-two pages with one hundred and four songs.

The third song book edited by Beta Epsilon Chapter, was published by the Grand Council in 1897. This book contains one hundred and seventeen songs with the music, is bound in dark blue boards with light blue lettering and is more convenient in size.

In the publication of this volume, the first The Record of its kind published by any Woman's fraternity, Kappa has again shown her leadership of the Woman's fraternity world and demonstrated her claim to be the leading Woman's fraternity.

LEADERS.

Kappa Kappa Gamma with over 4,000 loyal and enthusiastic members has the largest membership of any Woman's fraternity.

Kappa Kappa Gamma is installed in the leading co-educational institutions of the country.

Kappa Kappa Gamma has more alumnae associations than any other Woman's fraternity, and almost as many as all the other Women's fraternities combined.

Kappa Kappa Gamma was the first Woman's fraternity to edit a magazine. "The Key" has always been recognized by the fraternity world as the best of Woman fraternity magazines.

Kappa Kappa Gamma occupies more chapter houses than any other Woman's fraternity.

Kappa Kappa Gamma was the pioneer in adopting the Grand Council form of Government, now almost universal. This has given Kappa the reputation of being the best organized and most progressive of Women's fraternities.

Kappa Kappa Gamma is the only fraternity having a National call.

Kappa Kappa Gamma called the first Pan-Hellenic Convention, held in Boston, in 1891. It was entertained by Phi Chapter and presided over by Kappa's Grand President, Lucy Evelyn Wight-Allen.

Indiana furnishes more members to Kappa than any other State and New York second.

WHAT KAPPA MEANS.

Purpose.

Kappa Kappa Gamma is a college fraternity yet seven-eighths of our members have passed through their college days into the world of work beyond. College life is but preparatory to the greater life that follows, the life in which contests stern and real review the verdicts of our mimic trials. The pursuit of knowledge is a dreary task unless sustained by a sturdy purpose, a purpose that seeks in knowledge an increased power of discernment and in experience, ripeness of judgement. This purpose it is Kappa's mission to supply. Believing that the use of knowledge and power to attain wealth and position or to gratify ambition is to prostitute both, Kappa urges upon her members the highest ideals of duty. Temporary advantage and apparent success too often prove the undoing of those to whom they come so Kappa seeks by constantly holding before her members the truest and best standards to teach them to know that which is truly good and to recognize that which is truly beautiful.

Kappa Kappa Gamma means the direction of the college lives of its members so that when their preparation is ended and they begin their life work in earnest, they shall have learned the secret of getting the most out of life for themselves and of doing the greatest good for others. Secret.

This is Kappa's philosophy; this the light she sheds on those who gather around her altar; a light reflected in the "true blue" character and noble womanhood which Kappa really means.

Beta Eta.

Beta Eta Chapter was established at Leland Stanford University, Stanford University, Cal., June 10, 1892. This famous University has 163 in the faculty, 1,483 students, 500 of whom are women. Kappa Kappa Gamma has 14, Kappa Alpha Theta 26, Delta Gamma 23, Alpha Phi 16 active members. Beta Eta has 68 initiates, 25 of whom have received degrees.

Beta Eta has occupied a chapter house since 1896. In 1900 they, took possession of a chapter house built for them by a stock company of their alumnae. Beta Eta has a memorial library founded in memory of one of the charter members Alberta Merritt-Clemans. Each Christmas every member presents a book to this library.

INACTIVE CHAPTERS.

Alpha, the mother chapter of the fraternity, Alpha. was founded at Monmouth, Ill., on October 13, 1870. Alpha was the governing power of the fraternity until 1875 when it was delegated to Grand Chapters. Owing to opposition to fraternities by the faculty at Monmouth, Alpha remained "sub rosa" from 1880 to 1884 when the charter was surrendered rather than continue an unsatisfactory existence. Total membership 31.

Two sisters from Knox College, Galesburg, Beta. Ill. were initiated by Alpha in 1871 constituting Beta Chapter. It is doubtful as to how many members were initiated but the total is estimated to be 19. The charter was revoked in 1874.

On September 26, 1881 a charter was voted Beta Beta to a local society called The Browning Society at St. Lawrence University, Canton, N. Y., constituting them the Beta Beta Chapter. They took a prominent place in the fraternity. They entertained the convention of 1884, issued the first song book and the first Grand Treasurer

Florence Lee and Grand President Lucy Evelyn Wight, 1890-1892, were from this chapter. Beta Beta has many prominent alumnae, but owing to the falling off of the supply of suitable material for maintaining the standard of Kappa Kappa Gamma the charter of Beta Beta was revoked November 28, 1898. Total membership about 140.

Gamma. Gamma Chapter, established at Smithson College, Logansport, Ind., in 1872 has no records but it is stated to have initiated 11 members. The charter was revoked in 1875.

Zeta. Zeta Chapter was established at Rockford Seminary, Rockford, Ill., in 1874 and the charter was revoked in 1876. No records remain but the chapter is estimated to have initiated 13.

Nu. Nu Chapter was established at Franklin College, Franklin, Ind., in 1879 through Iota. Forty-one members were initiated but owing to the low standard of the school the charter was revoked October 30, 1884.

Omicron. Omicron Chapter was established at Simpson College, Indianola, Iowa, April 10, 1880 through Delta. Sixty-four members were initiated but owing to the low standard of the college the charter was revoked February 10, 1890.

Rho. Rho Chapter was established at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, in 1880 through Iota. Twenty-eight members were initiated and Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes made an honorary member. Owing to the opposition to women's fraternities by the faculty the charter was revoked November 25, 1884.

Beta Rho was established at the University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, Ohio, June 6, 1885 through Lambda. Only four members were initiated and later in the same year the charter was revoked and the members honorably dismissed. Beta Rho.

Tau Chapter was established at Lacell Seminary, Auburndale, Mass., June 1881, through Beta Gamma. Six members were initiated but owing to faculty opposition the charter was revoked in 1882. Tau.

CHAPTER HOUSES.

The first chapter of Kappa to rent a house was Eta, Wisconsin University, in September, 1891. She was soon followed by others until now Kappa chapters situated at Syracuse University, Michigan University, Indiana University, Depauw University, Wisconsin University, Illinois University, Nebraska University, Colorado University, California University, Leland Stanford University, Missouri University, Barnard College and Texas University occupy houses. Several of the chapters own the furniture entire or in part, several have had houses built for them but Beta Eta, Leland Stanford University, was the first to own her own home. This was built for her by a stock company of her alumnae and occupied September 1st 1900. Inspired by the glowing accounts of Beta Eta, Eta's alumnae followed the same plan and the girls at Wisconsin University took possession of their own house September, 1902. Several other chapters have well matured plans for buying or building houses in the near future and it is hoped that all will succeed.

Recent Victories.

We may well be proud of Kappa's history, but our record is not all in the distant past. During the last collegiate year, 1902-1903, our active chapters have all taken a prominent place in their respective institutions and distanced their competitors in securing collegiate honors, while our contests with rival fraternities in securing new members have been remarkably successful, Kappa having won seventy girls who had been invited to join other fraternities while only twenty-nine girls who had been invited to join Kappa chose to join some other fraternity.

A partial record of the year's honors is here given:

Only twenty-eight honorary members were initiated while the practice was in vogue. The most prominent among these are Mary A. Livermore, the famous lecturer; Mrs. Jennie Fowler-Willing, the author; Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes, widow of the late President Hayes; Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, the author of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic;" Laura E. Alumnae Associations.

Editorials in "The Key" during 1889 and 1890 called frequent attention to the desirability of alumnae associations or chapters as they were then called. Not until 1892 however, when meetings of alumnae were held in Chicago and New York, did the movement result successfully. Even then the organization of alumnae associations received no encouragement from the active membership until the Grand Council session held in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1901. By this time the value of such associations was recognized and it was voted that the organization of alumnae should be urged and encouraged and that the direction of such associations be given to the officers' deputies. At the convention of 1902 a whole day was given to the alumnae and called Alumnae Day. The spirited discussion called forth by the interesting programme of that day proved to be the feature of that convention. Kappa Kappa Gamma now has 26 organizations of alumnae, a far larger number than any other woman's fraternity.

Chicago.

,The first successful attempt at organization of alumnae was in 1892. At the convention held in Indianapolis a number of Chicago alumnae led by Miss Gertrude Small of Boston University applied for a charter. After a great deal of opposition and discussion a charter was granted to the Chicago organization and they became Beta Theta Chapter with requirements and privileges of a chapter. This chapter was very successful for some time. It had the responsibility for and charge of the Kappa corner at the World's Fair, also Kappa's part in the Pan Thugyterian Convention held there in 1893. But the requirements of a chapter became burdensome to the alumnae and at the 1896 convention they returned their charter.

For some time after this no formal organization existed but under the impetus of the alumnae interest aroused at the convention of 1902 a new organization, led by Mrs. Ida Bunnell Otstott of the University of Nebraska, was formed February 28, 1903 at Marshall Field's tea room. Thirty members were enrolled representing more than 12 chapters. Meetings, with an average attendance of 20, are held the 4th Saturday of each month in Marshall Field's tea rooms. Luncheon and a social hour occupies the time. Mrs. Daniel Du S. Otstott, 317 W. 61st St., Chicago, Ill., Secretary.

The New York Alumnae Association was established December 4, 1896. In 1900 a constitution and by-laws were adopted providing for six yearly meetings, and over 100 members were enrolled representing 18 chapters. The meetings are devoted to business, discussion of subjects of general fraternity interest, closing with a social half hour over light refreshments. Delegates have been sent to the last three conventions. A luncheon is held annually in February at one of the leading hotels of New York when an effort is made to bring together all Kappas in the vicinity of New York. In April 1902 a directory of all Kappas in New York and vicinity was published by the association under the direction of Mrs Jean Nelson Penfield then Grand President and Mrs. Minnie Royse-Walker. Mrs. J. E. Welch, 10 W. 66th St., New York, Secretary.

Kansas City.

The Kansas City Alumnae Association was organized April 19, 1900. The first purpose was to meet and entertain Kappas of Kansas State University and Missouri State University when they came to the annual foot ball game. The Thanksgiving breakfast continues to be the chief meeting of the year but four regular meetings in addition thereto are held. Thirty members are enrolled representing 10 chapters. The meetings are largely social and have an average attendance of 15. Mrs. N. L. R. Taylor, 1014 E. 15th St., Kansas City, Mo., Secretary.

Philadelphia. The alumnae of Kappa organized in Philadelphia on April 30, 1900. Thirty-three members are enrolled representing 8 chapters. Five meetings and a dinner are held annually. The association shares a room with the active chapter, its connection with which is very close. Mrs. M. C. Betts, 6008 Main St., Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa., Secretary.

Detroit.

The Detroit Alumnae Association was organized March 22, 1901. Eighteen members are enrolled representing 5 chapters. Four meetings are held yearly at which there is an average attendance of 13. Their meetings are social in character. Miss Lulu B. Southmayd, 1141 Third Ave., Detroit, Mich., Secretary.

On November 26, 1901, the Kappas of Cleveland were organized under the leadership of Mrs. Minnie Royse-Walker, Grand President's Deputy and Miss Elmie Warner, Grand Registrar. Twenty-two members are enrolled representing six chapters. Eight meetings are held yearly which are chiefly social and business. A buffet luncheon is served at each meeting by the hostess. In January an evening entertainment is given for the husbands and friends of members. A formal luncheon is held annually. Literary work will be taken up in the future. Miss Edith M. Twiss, 47 Elberon Ave., Cleveland, Ohio, Secretary.

Cleveland.

The alumnae of Indianapolis were organized first in February 1898. Monthly meetings were held and special receptions to visiting Kappas given at the time of the Annual State Oratorical Contest. On April 4, 1903 the Indianapolis association conformed to the present regulations for alumnae associations and 25 members were enrolled representing 4 chapters. Meetings are held monthly from October to May having an average attendance of 20. Meetings are literary and social. Miss Inez Elliott, 1566 E. Market St., Indianapolis, Ind., Secretary.

Denver.

The Denver alumnae were organized in May, 1900. There are 16 active members representing 12 chapters. Nine meetings are held a year. The meetings are literary and social. This year the association has undertaken a course on Japan. Miss Gertrude F. Wood, 1636 Gilpin St., Denver, Colo., Secretary.

St. Louis.

The St. Louis Alumnae Association was organized March 21, 1903, through the efforts of Mrs. Eleanore Wright-Houts and Mrs. May Whiting-Westerman, Grand President. There are 16 members representing 10 chapters. The first work of the association will be towards arranging for pleasant meetings of Kappas during the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. Mrs. Herbert S. Morriss, 5634 Bartmer Ave., St. Louis, Mo., Secretary.

Minneapolis.

The Minneapolis Alumnae Association was established Nov. 8, 1892. It has an enrolled membership of 83, with 5 chapters represented. There are five meetings held yearly for the discussion of subjects of general fraternity interest. The work done has been chiefly the assistance of Chi the local active chapter and the welcoming of new Kappa residents. Miss Edith V. Selover, 29 Ash St., Bryn Mawr, Minneapolis, Minn., Secretary.

The Boston alumnae organized in 1895. Boston. There are 30 members enrolled, all members of Phi Chapter with one exception. There are five meetings held yearly both business and social in character. An interesting programme is prepared for each meeting. The work is chiefly for the active chapter. Alice Quirin, 19 Chester St., W. Somerville, Mass., Secretary.

The Kappa Club at Bloomington, Ill., was Bloomington. organized November 22, 1895. Twenty-four members are enrolled and 3 chapters are represented. Meetings, with an average attendance of 20, are held every two weeks during the year. The club held 19 meetings last year. The club was organized for literary work and this is the second year devoted to a study of Italy. Much assistance is given to the local active chapter. Miss Flora B. Jones, Bloomington, Ill., Secretary.

The alumnae of Columbus, O., organized Columbus. March 16, 1901. Twenty attend the five meetings held yearly. They are chiefly social. The main work is to help the active chapter. To this end every other meeting is devoted to a spread given for its members. Miss May Cole, 156 S. 18th St., Columbus, O., Secretary Wooster.

On November 12, 1901, the alumnae at Wooster, O., were organized. Sixteen members are enrolled all from Wooster University. A meeting is held every month at which there is an average attendance of 10. The meetings are business and social in character. Mrs. R. C. Taylor, Taylor Flats, E. Liberty St., Wooster, O., Secretary.

Akron.

The Akron Alumnae Association was organized November 6, 1901. Twenty-five members are enrolled representing two Ohio chapters. Four meetings are held yearly at which there is an average attendance of 20. Three of the meetings are social, one business. The work is in aiding the Buchtel Chapter socially and financially. This year it has helped the active chapter to furnish their new chapter room. Miss Lydia Van Voris, 206 S. Union St., Akron, O., Secretary.

Lawrence.

At Lawrence, Kansas, an Alumnae Association was established in June 1902. Fourteen members were enrolled all from Omega Chapter. Monthly meetings are held. The chief feature of the year was a banquet for the active chapter celebrating the establishment of the chapter. Miss Marguerite E. Wise, 1244 Tennessee St., Lawrence, Kansas, Secretary.

The alumnae of Bloomington, Ind., were Bloomington, Ind. organized September 1900 with 40 members, from Delta Chapter and two from Iota. Four meetings are held yearly, the chief topic of discussion being the welfare of Delta. At the opening of the new year the association, which includes the social leaders of the city, gives a reception to the chapter to which many of the new girls are invited. The alumnae have been of great help in furnishing Delta's chapter house. Mrs. L. Van Buskirk, 321 N. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ind., Secretary.

The Greencastle, Ind., Alumnae Association Greencastle. was organized in 1899. Two chapters are represented. Twenty-six members are enrolled. Four meetings are held yearly. they are literary and social in character. Mrs. Charles S. Preston, Greencastle, Ind., Secretary.

The Beta Iota Alumnae Association was Beta Iota. organized at Swarthmore, Pa., February 26, 1898. The membership includes the entire chapter membership of Beta Iota. Four meetings are held yearly when the interests of the active chapter are discussed. The "big meeting" is the banquet held the last of February when an especial effort is made by all the members of the chapter to be present. The alumnae keep very actively in touch with the chapter through a committee which visits the chapter monthly. The influence of Beta Iota's alumnae was decisive a few years ago when there was serious discussion among the college authorities regarding the prohibition of all women's fraternities at Swarthmore, and prevented such action being taken.

Eta.

The alumnae in Madison, Wis., have had an organization for the past ten years holding monthly meetings of a social character. There have been about 20 active members but 40 of the alumnae of Eta have been associate members by the payment of yearly dues of $1. On December 12, 1900, the alumnae of Eta were incorporated under the name of the Chapter Home Association of K. K. G. This association built the beautiful chapter house which Eta now occupies. The 800 shares of stock of the Home Association, at $25 a share are distributed among about 50 Kappas. The alumnae hold their meetings in the chapter house.

Beta Eta.

In 1899 the alumnae of Beta Eta at Stanford University, Cal., formed an association and incorporated themselves into a stock company for the purpose of building a chapter house for Beta Eta. The active chapter took possession of the house built by this association, in September, 1900.

Beta Delta.

In 1898 several of the alumnae of Beta Delta found themselves living in Detroit, Mich. Regular meetings were held as a result of which the list of Beta Delta's initiates was divided among the Detroit members. A letter was written containing points of interest regarding the university, the fraternity and the chapter and sent to all the members of the chapter. In this way the alumnae members of Beta Delta are kept in touch with the chapter and pay annual dues.

The alumnae of Beta Epsilon were organized, Beta Epsilon. in New York city, in May, 1902. There is a membership of 42 who meet three times yearly. One aim of the association is to keep the members in touch with each other and with the active chapter; but its chief purpose is to aid the active chapter, especially to help pay the expenses of the chapter house. Mary L. Eaton, 306 W 93rd St., New York, Secretary.

The alumnae of Pi, at Berkeley, Cal., were Pi. organized in 1898. Four meetings are held a year at which there is an average attendance of 20. Thirty members are enrolled. The meetings are business and social and for the entertainment of the active chapter. The Pi association has established and supports a scholarship for the active chapter. Through this scholarship each year some one of the active chapter is able to continue her college course who otherwise could not. Miss Ethelynd McClyman, 447 Plymouth Ave., Oakland, Cal., Secretary.

Lincoln. The Lincoln, Neb, Alumnae Association was organized in May, 1903, with 24 members enrolled, all initiates of Sigma. It purposes to meet monthly and to give all possible assistance to the active chapter in the University of Nebraska. Miss Stella B. Kirker, 636 S. 17th St., Lincoln, Neb., Secretary.

Syracuse. The Syracuse, N. Y., Alumnae Association was organized in June, 1903, and up to date has enrolled about 25 members. It will meet monthly and seek to revive the fraternity interest of all local Kappas and advance the interests of the local chapter. Mary E. Todd, 742 S. Bush St., Syracuse, N. Y., Secretary.

History and Government.

It was natural that the members of Alpha Chapter having founded the fraternity should at first retain in their own hands the supreme authority and government of the fraternity. In 1871 the members of Alpha Chapter which was then only a year, old, met to decide the question as to whether or not Kappa Kappa Gamma should extend its domain to other colleges. This meeting has commonly been called the first convention and the momentous question of expansion was decided affirmatively by the authorization of the Beta Chapter at Knox College.

Alpha Controls.

In 1872 Gamma Chapter was founded at Smithson College and in 1873 Delta Chapter was established at Indiana University. It took but two short years during which the Beta and Gamma chapters died, for Delta to reach a position of power and influence far beyond that of the mother chapter. During these two years, five chapters were established, as follows: Epsilon at Illinois Wesleyan University; Zeta at Rockford Seminary; Eta at the University of Wisconsin; Theta at the University of Missouri and Iota at Depauw University, four of which (Zeta at Rockford Seminary living only two years) have had a continuous and successful existence since their founding, and with Delta have been the foundation upon which the present fraternity has been builded.

In 1875, shortly after the establishment of Iota, a convention was called to meet at Greencastle, Ind. under the auspices of that chapter, and this convention though commonly called the second, is really the first convention of the fraternity and from it dates the growth and progress of the Kappa fraternity. The influence of Delta Chapter in the convention was strong and Anna Buskirk-Hill of Delta was elected Grand President of the convention, while Amy Puett of Iota was elected Grand Secretary. At this convention the ceptre of power passed from the waning Alpha Chapter, which surrendered its charter a few years later, to the already dominant Delta which was elected Grand Chapter under the new constitution then adopted which provided for that system of government. Delta as Grand Chapter governed the fraternity from 1875 until 1878. At the convention held in that year at Bloomington, Ill., under the auspices of Epsilon Chapter, Epsilon was elected to succeed Delta as Grand Chapter for the succeeding three years, but the influence of Delta even then was shown in the fact that Kate Hight of Delta was President of the convention of 1878, while Mary Hill of Eta was Grand Secretary and that Lillie Adams of Delta was Grand President of the next convention, that of 1881, Margaret Noble of Iota being its Grand Secretary.

The convention of 1881 was marked by the abandonment of the Grand Chapter system of government and the adoption of the present system of government by convention and Grand Council, Kappa Kappa Gamma being the first fraternity to take this progressive step which has been responsible for the splendid growth and success of the fraternity since that time. The convention which meets every two years is the supreme authority in the fraternity. The members of the Grand Council are elected by each convention for the succeeding two years and during the interim they are the Executive Officers and supreme authority in the fraternity, but their acts are reviewable by the succeeding convention to which they must report.

Modern System Adopted.

The Grand Council at first consisted of a Grand President, Grand Secretary, Grand Treasurer and Grand Marshall. In 1892 the office of Grand Marshall was dropped and that of Editor of "The Key" added. The convention of 1900 provided for the appointment by the Grand Council of a Historian and Grand Cataloguer. These last two officers are to hold office for terms of ten years and have the privilege of attending all Grand Council sessions.

Expansion. The policy of the fraternity in matter of Conservative expansion has been extremely conservative. In the past twelve years only six chapters have been established and these at such institutions as Barnard College, Stanford University, Swarthmore College and the State Universities of Illinois, Colorado and Texas, while over thirty petitions have been refused. Of the chapters established since the adoption of the present form of government in 1881, only one, that at Cincinnati, which was organized under an unfortunate misapprehension, has failed to thrive.

As a matter of fraternity history a list of the conventions is here given together with a list of the officers, so far as ascertainable, of the Grand Chapters while that system of government prevailed and a list of the officers of the Grand Council since that system of government was adopted in 1881. Under the present system of government the officers of each Grand Council are the officers of the succeeding convention.

'AI KORAE ATHENES!

Four thousand voices now answer to that call. Daughters of Minerva your record is here, the future is yours to make. What may you not accomplish when you rally for a common cause.

Let Kappa stand for the best in education, for better conditions for the poor, for greater opportunity for all, for civic righteousness and all that is best in citizenship. May every good cause feel sure of quick aid in response to the cry "'AI KORAE ATHENES!"
